The Most Holy Trinity

After the Glories of Easter and Pentecost, the Church leads us back into Ordinary Time by gentle degrees. Before our Sundays return to green, we celebrate two wonderful solemnities--the Most Holy Trinity and the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ. The timing is still significant. At Pentecost, the Holy Spirit came in transforming power upon the disciples, and the life of faith that we know began: Jesus, is no longer visible to our eyes, but he is present among us in wonderful ways through the power of the Holy Spirit.

Today's solemnity of the Most Holy Trinity is ancient. The origins of the solemnity can be traced to the seventh century. It has been on the Church's universal calendar for nearly seven hundred years. "The central mystery of Christian faith and life" is the mystery of the Most Blessed Trinity (CCC, 234). This solemnity offers us time to meditate upon this defining mystery of our faith.

THE FIRST READING is drawn from Moses' address to the people at the beginning of Deuteronomy. He has just reminded the Israelites of all that has happened since they left Horeb; then, as today's reading begins, he exclaims, "Did anything so great ever happen before?" (Deuteronomy 4:32). All the wonders God has worked for conclusion: the Lord is God, and God is one.

IN RESPONSORIAL PSALM 33, we recall God's creative power. He made the heavens with a word, and he breathed the stars into being. Together, the First Reading and the psalm offer a portrait of God the Father: powerful, creative, and loving. Notice that the word kindness is repeated three times in the psalm (33:5, 18, 22).

THE SECOND READING: Romans is all about relationship. We are not slaves but children of God, because the Holy Spirit we have received is a Spirit of "adoption" (Romans 8:15), giving us the right to call God Abba--Father. We are God's adopted children. So is Jesus; and we therefore become "joint heirs" (8:17) with Christ. It is the Holy Spirit that draws us into this family relationship with God and his Son

THE GOSPEL: Jesus sends the Eleven forth to the whole world, to make disciples, to teach, and to baptize "in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit" (Matthew 28:19). The words are so familiar that we can easily miss how mysterious they really are. Notice that while three persons are indicated, the word name is singular: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit are truly one God.
